Hi Lynda,

Non-Responsive

Actually in Oregon, the past history shows Oregon keeping close to 50% for watershed projects.

My email was in response to a request made during the NPS Coordinators call.

Hi Jayne,

I agree this isn't an auspicious time to check with Oregon on a funding question. It seems that the answer to the question should be knowable by checking past workplans, though.

Also I'd be interested in a bit more context on your question. Are you simply confirming where each R10 state stands wrt the 50% requirement or are you preparing for a further conversation with Alaska and want to use the other states as a point of reference?

Thanks,

Hi Lynda,

I don't think it is a good idea to check with Oregon, given the situation with Oregon CZARA although Oregon has been close to 50% during the previous years. What do you think?

Hope this helps.

Jayne
